REPORT OF SCHOOL BOARD

To the citizens of the Town of Dublin we submit the ninety-third annual report of our schools.

We have had thirty-six weeks of school during the year, ending February twelve.

The same teachers as last year taught their respective schools during the spring term.

The fall term began September eight.

Miss Bernadett B. Boucher, of Hinsdale, a graduate of the Keene Normal School, at No. 3, and Miss Mertie E. Nolan, of Sutton, an experienced teacher, at No. 5.

Under the graded system at No. 1, which includes the school at the Town Hall, the advance has been very satisfactory, while at the other schools the advance has been retarded by too many grades under one teacher.

The first, third and fourth grades which attend school in the Town Hall building have no playgrounds except the street; this is very unsatisfactory, and we expect to get the vote of the town to better the conditions.

The school rooms at No. 3 and No. 5 were painted, papered, and a few minor repairs made before the fall term commenced.

A large number of text books, also music books and supplementary readers have been purchased during the year.

The music and drawing in our schools is still under the able supervision of Miss Brown.

We are in the Supervisory District, composed of the same towns as last year, with Mr. Andrew P. Averill as supervisor, who is doing excellent work.

We think it will be necessary to raise four thousand dollars for the payment of the statutory obligations of the district.

Two hundred and fifty dollars for tuition, and one hundred and fifty dollars for School District Officers.

Respectfully submitted,

CLIFTON E. RICHARDSON,
WILFRED M. FISKE,
ROBERT C. WOODWARD,
The School Board of Dublin.

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

TO THE BOARD OF EDUCATION, DUBLIN, N. H.:

I hereby submit my third annual report as superintendent of the schools of Dublin.

I wish to express to the Board of Education and to the voters of Dublin my appreciation of their liberality in school expenditures. The last school report shows that for the year ending July 15, 1913, the average of current expenditure per pupil in Dublin was $48.92. However, while this was $17.12 more than the average for the entire State, it was $20.01 less than that of the town having the highest record. For the same year the highest rate of school assessment was $11.75, the average for the State was $3.63, the Dublin rate was $2.34. The above figures show that, while the rate of expenditure in Dublin in proportion to its school population is decidedly higher than the State average, the burden of expenditure as shown by rate of assessment is much below the average. However, these ratios are such as are to be expected when we consider the scattered population, and the small membership of the rural schools. The relatively high cost of board in Dublin has also been no small factor in the increase of teachers' salaries.

The teacher is the most important unit in any school system; the quality of the teaching determines the efficiency of the school. By liberal compensation the best available teachers will be secured, and in the end every community will profit by the added efficiency and strength of character of the boy and girl graduates.

New Schoolhouse

There is need of a new school building in the village to accommodate the two schools. If such a building be authorized by the voters, it should be located on grounds ample in size for an ornamental yard in front and in the rear a playground that will accommodate not only swings, horizontal bars, teeter boards, etc., but also give room for baseball, basket-ball, etc.

Not less than two acres would suffice for all these varied activities. Besides the two schoolrooms it should provide a manual training room for the boys and a sewing and cooking room for the girls. The rooms should be well lighted, the window surface being no less than one-fifth of the floor space, and a proper heating and ventilating system should be installed. An assembly room is desirable, but not absolutely essential. The building should be so constructed as to meet the needs of the community not only for the present but for many years to come. And, though practical arts may not be included in the curriculum at present, their inclusion as a part of the regular school work is sure to follow in the near future, as the educational trend is decidedly in that direction.

Present Conditions

In the village primary school the children in the spring were each provided by the Board with a flower plant to care for. Mr. Lynch also gave to each child a plant. Six scarfs were knit by the pupils and given to the Red Cross. Fruit and vegetables and jellies were also sent by pupils to the Elliott City Hospital at Keene. Columbus Day and Christmas, exercises were prepared and the parents were invited. Many responded.

The total membership of the fall term was 25; of these, nine were in the first grade, seven in the third grade, and nine in the fourth grade. The per cent of attendance was 95.13.

The usual good work is being done in the village grammar school. The alertness and enthusiasm of the pupils at whatever work they undertake it is a pleasure to note. The topical recitations mark an improvement worthy of mention. In addition to the ordinary school work the pupils have knitted about twenty scarfs for the Red Cross. From reed and raffia they made fruit baskets which they utilized as Christmas gifts to their friends. Through the generosity of Mr. Gowing, who gave his time for instruction, the children learned several of the Morris folk dances.

The total membership for the fall term was 23, the percentage of attendance, 94.72.

The fall membership in School No. 2 was 15, distributed as follows: Grade II, 2; III, 4; V, 4; VI, 3; VII, 1; VIII, 1. This school experimented with home gardens. In the spring free seeds were obtained from the government and distributed to the children. Ten children undertook the work. Each planted lettuce, beets, carrots, radishes, etc., in a plot ten feet by five feet. A prize was offered for the best vegetable exhibited. Doris Richardson received the prize for a fine head of lettuce, and Marion Richardson received honorable mention for the best beet. Much enthusiasm was displayed and the children are eager to repeat the experiment. I hope other schools will take up next spring similar work.

In June, Miss Fisher, the No. 3 teacher, declined to consider a re-election, and Miss Bernadett B. Boucher was secured to teach the school. Miss Boucher is a graduate of the Keene Normal School with one term's experience. The work during the fall has been very satisfactory as a whole, the improvement in reading has been marked. The membership was 10, the per cent of attendance was 91.90.

Miss Alexander resigned as teacher of No. 5 in August, and Miss Mertie E. Nolan was secured to succeed her. Miss Nolan is a high school graduate with three years' experience in teaching. Her school numbers 11 pupils, but the attendance is very poor, the per cent being 86.5. The work is interfered with by the poor attendance. Troubles of discipline have arisen here, and the order is not so good as in the other schools.

Respectfully submitted,

ANDREW P. AVERILL.

REPORT OF SUPERVISOR OF MUSIC AND DRAWING

Mr. A. P. Averill, Superintendent of Schools, Dublin, N. H.:—

I hereby submit my second report of work done in music and drawing in the schools of this town.

During the summer the outlines used last year were revised and made more definite. In general they call for the principles given in the outline in the town report for last year.

The United States Commissioner of Education, P. P. Claxton, says that we put the different subjects in our school curriculum for their practical value and that "next to reading, writing and the ability to count the simplest sums in arithmetic, music is the most practical subject in our schools." "In the first place it is one of the most valuable forms of sense training. When we think of the reading of the words of the song, the notes of the music, the tones, the rests, the pauses, no one can doubt that as an instrument for sense training music is unexcelled. It quickens at once the eye, the ear and the vocal organs. In the second place, music is one of the great forms of artistic expression; it contributes a wholesome pleasure and affords an opportunity for the arousing of patriotic emotions."

In all the schools the upper grades are using the Modern Music Series No. 2. This book gives work in one, two and three part singing. The closer grading at the village has made it possible to do more part work. The grammar school has been able to sing several selections in three parts. In the lower grades we are using the First Reader of the Educational Series and Sight Singing Melodies together with board work and rote songs.

In drawing, the teachers are provided each month with outlines, planning for two lessons a week.

The general plan followed has been nature drawing and painting for September and October; vegetable and fruit painting and printing for November, Christmas work, which consisted in making needle cases, pen wipers, pictures, calendars, laundry, telephone and grocery lists, cards, baskets and trays. January and February will be devoted to group work, the study of the circle, the drawing of toys. March will be constructive drawing and then in a short time the spring nature work starts.

During the year I have talked with teachers and supervisors of other towns and cities and I find that they are following the same general plan for the year that we are. It may be of interest to know that while visiting schools in two places where the work is considered excellent, I had the opportunity of examining full sets of drawing papers and found that the percentage of excellent papers secured in a lesson was so high and in some cases higher in our schools than in theirs.

This year I have asked for some imitative and memory work. There are two features that are considered important by the Supervisor of Drawing in New York.

I wish to thank the teachers, superintendent, and committee for their co-operation and for the supplies provided.

Respectfully,

A. Jean Brown,
Supervisor of Music and Drawing.
